STORY 01 NOT MOBILE-FRIENDLY

Desktop Site, Mobile Visitors

Site scores 96 on desktop but fails mobile-friendly test. 60%+ of local plumbing searches happen on phones. Broken mobile = lost calls.

-30%

Broken mobile experience kills 3 in 10 potential callers.

300 visitors × 30% lost = 90 × 0.35 conv × 0.30 close × $700 = ~$6,300/mo at risk.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

The site is not flagged as mobile-friendly, meaning text, buttons, and CTAs likely break on small screens.

Local emergency plumbing searches spike on mobile — if your site doesn't load clean, they call your competitor instead.

HOW TO FIX IT

- 01

Run Google Mobile-Friendly Test

Identify every failing element on mrrooterca.com and flag for dev fix.
- 02

Fix tap targets and CTA button size

Make the 'Call Now' button thumb-friendly and above the fold on mobile.

WHAT YOU'LL GET

More mobile visitors convert to calls instead of bouncing to a competitor.

STORY 02 NO SEO DATA DETECTED

Invisible to Google Searchers

SEO metrics returned null. No visible title tags, meta descriptions, or structured data detected in audit. You can't rank for what you don't optimize.

-25%

Missing SEO means you don't show up when people search 'plumber near me.'

75 lost visitors × 0.35 conv × 0.30 close × $700 = ~$5,513/mo unrealized.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

With null SEO data, the site likely lacks optimized meta titles, H1 tags, and schema markup for local plumbing.

Competitors with basic on-page SEO outrank this listing even with fewer reviews.

HOW TO FIX IT

- 01

Add location-specific title tags

Format: 'Plumber in San Bernardino, CA | Mr. Rooter Plumbing' on every key page.
- 02

Install LocalBusiness schema markup

Add structured data with NAP, service area, and hours to boost local pack visibility.

WHAT YOU'LL GET

Higher rankings for 'plumber San Bernardino' without spending a dollar on ads.

STORY 03 WRONG WEBSITE ON GMB

GMB Points Somewhere Else

GMB links to mrrooterca.com but audit URL is mrrooter.com. Split traffic and brand confusion reduce trust signals and hurt local pack ranking.

-15%Two URLs, two brands — Google and customers get confused.45 lost visitors × 0.35 × 0.30 × $700 = ~$3,308/mo in confused, unconverted traffic.*

WHAT'S HAPPENING

Google My Business lists mrrooterca.com while the national site is mrrooter.com — creating NAP inconsistency.

Citation mismatches across directories lower local pack rankings and erode map visibility.

HOW TO FIX IT

- 01 Audit all citations for URL consistency
Use BrightLocal or Moz Local to find every listing pointing to the wrong URL and correct them.
- 02 Set canonical URL in GMB
Confirm the local landing page (mrrooterca.com/local-plumber-san-bernardino-ca) is the single source of truth.

WHAT YOU'LL GET

Consistent NAP = stronger local pack ranking = more map calls.

No Hook, No Call

National franchise sites are generic. No same-day offer, no price anchor, no risk reversal above the fold. Visitors with an emergency need a reason to call NOW.

-20%

Generic homepage costs you emergency jobs that go to faster-converting competitors.

60 unconverted visitors × 0.35 × 0.30 × $700 = ~$4,410/mo left on table.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

Franchise homepages rarely lead with local urgency triggers like 'Same-Day Service in San Bernardino' or '$0 Diagnostic Fee.'

Emergency plumbing calls convert 2x higher when a clear risk-reversal offer is visible within 3 seconds of landing.

HOW TO FIX IT

- 01

Add a same-day offer headline

Above the fold: 'Same-Day Plumbing in San Bernardino — Call Before Noon, Fixed Today.'
- 02

Add a no-risk guarantee badge

Place 'Upfront Pricing. No Surprise Fees.' next to the phone number on the local landing page.

WHAT YOU'LL GET

Higher call rate from visitors already ready to hire — no extra traffic needed.

STORY 05 REVIEWS NOT AMPLIFIED

1,407 Reviews, Low Visibility

4.8 stars across 1,407 reviews is a weapon. It's barely showing on the local site. No review count badge, no testimonial pull-quotes above the fold.

-10%

Your best sales asset is buried — and it's free to fix.

30 hesitant visitors converted × 0.30 close × $700 = ~$6,300/mo if social proof drives decisions.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

Social proof is the #1 trust lever for local services — hiding it below the fold wastes the hardest-earned asset you have.

Competitors with fewer reviews but more visible testimonials win the conversion race on landing pages.

HOW TO FIX IT

01 Add star rating + review count to hero section

Display '4.8 ★ | 1,407 Google Reviews' directly under the headline on your local page.

02 Pull 2–3 top reviews as quote blocks

Feature Mark, David, and Raquel's reviews as named testimonials with first names and job type.

WHAT YOU'LL GET

Fence-sitting visitors see proof and call — without changing a single ad budget.
